The No. 8

8 IDOWU MARTINS STREET · VICTORIA ISLAND, LAGOS

Some numbers carry weight. This one carries destiny

In Chinese tradition, eight is the luckiest number in existence a symbol of infinite abundance, of cycles completing and beginning again, of prosperity that flows without end. Its very shape is the infinity sign standing upright. Purposeful. Unbroken.

> “When we counted our developments from the very beginning, from vision to foundation, from Integrity Tower to today, we arrived at the same place the address already told us we would be.”

Our 8th development. On the 8th street. Named simply, unmistakably: The No. 8. This is not branding. This is alignment.

8TH
OUR LEGACY

The eighth development in the Fountain Havens portfolio, counting from Integrity Tower where it all began.

8
THE ADDRESS

Number 8 Idowu Martins Street, one of Victoria Island’s most coveted corridors of commerce and residence.

No.8
THE NAME

A project that wears its identity with confidence. No subtitle needed. The number speaks.

ARCHITECTURE THAT REFUSES TO WHISPER.

The No. 8 rises with the confidence of its namesake, terraced balconies cascading like a living landscape, each level breathing with lush greenery against warm travertine. This is not a building that blends in. It was never meant to. Every façade is a statement. Every planted terrace a reminder that luxury and nature are not opposing forces, they are, at their finest, the same thing. By dusk, the building illuminates from within: warm gold light tracing the lines of each slab, each overhang, as though the architecture itself understands what it represents.

To own The No. 8 is to hold ABUNDANCE in your hands.

In every culture that has ever studied numbers, 8 is the symbol of wealth that multiplies, of fortune that compounds, of achievement that echoes. It is the number of the Olympiad, of the octave that resolves back to itself, of the spider whose patience always yields. For the discerning buyer, The No. 8 is not simply a residence it is a position. A statement made in concrete, glass, and greenery that says: I arrived here deliberately. I chose well. I chose eight

> “The 8th on Number 8. This is the kind of alignment that cannot be manufactured. It can only be earned through eight developments of integrity.”

We did not name it.
It named itself.

Eight developments built on trust. Eight years of delivering without compromise. And now, on the eighth address, a building that crystallises everything we have learned, everything we believe, and everything we intend to keep building. The No. 8 is our most significant development to date. Not because of its scale. But because of what it represents: the moment when the work and the world align perfectly and you simply show up, ready
